LUXURIOUS SERENITY, NEAR ALL THE ACTION

There are a lot of lovely hotels in Greater Palm Springs, many of them boasting a thumping soundtrack and see-and-be-seen pool parties. 25-year-old Samantha would've said, "Yes please!" These days, I crave serenity. There's no better place for that than El Paseo, the first new luxury hotel in Palm Desert in over 30 years. Imagine sipping on a cool poolside cocktail, or practicing your short game on their putting green. There's also a fabulous restaurant with room service and a spa (can I get an amen!). Many of the spacious rooms come with a private balcony overlooking the mountains, perfect for enjoying your morning cup of coffee.

It's also worth noting the proximity to El Paseo, the area's notable shopping, dining and entertainment hub. Walk out the door and you're there!
